

FIND NINE DEAD IN KENTUCKY MINE AFTER EXPLOSION

Rescuers Make Discovery After Trying to Reach Men Since Friday

By International News Service

PROVIDENCE, Ky., July 17—The nine men sought since Friday night when a gas explosion trapped them far below the ground in their Duin mine of the Bucan Coal Company, were found dead today by rescuers.

After penetrating to the entry, where the bodies were found, rescuers reported the men had scrawled notes on the mine wall in chalk, telling of their desperate attempt to keep alive. Nineteen other miners were killed almost instantly in the explosion but the fate of the nine found today apparently had been even more horrible, as there was evidence they had fought against approaching death.

One of the notes scribbled on a wall said: "All alive at 12.30. All praying and singing."

Until their bodies were found this morning, it had been hoped the nine had built themselves a barricade against the gas, which was slowly being pumped from the mine. The signs brought shrieks of anguish from several hundred relatives and friends of the trapped men, who had stood vigil throughout the day and night praying that the men might be taken out alive.

Thirty-eight men were working in the mine at the time of the explosion. Three more men in another group made their way to a telephone and reported the accident. These and seven others at the bottom of the shaft escaped. All suffered ill effects from the gas.

Await Reaction Of Farley To Opposition

By William K. Hutchinson

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 17—(INS)—Interest of national politicians today centered on Postmaster General James A. Farley, awaiting his reaction to the efforts of the White House "palace guard" to purge him from the cabinet.

The purge movement became public over the week-end with revelation that inside new dealers hope to replace him in the Cabinet with Paul V. McNutt, newly-named Federal Security administrator, who in turn would be replaced by a "brain-truster." In time, the new dealers also hope to drive Farley out of the Democratic national chairmanship, replacing him with Joseph P. Kennedy, now ambassador to the Court of St. James.

Most politicians believe the fate of Farley is inevitably linked to the outcome of the 1940 presidential election. If the known coolness between President Roosevelt and Farley develops into an open break, Ardent new dealers, hoping to blast Farley out of all party authority, however believe the President can be easily re-nominated with the present postmaster general on the sidelines and can be reelected without the aid of "genial Jim."

LANDRETH TEAM WINS BOTH WEEK-END GAMES

Local Nine Wins Ten Consecutive Games by Week-End Record

FINE PITCHING BY BLACK

Howard Black pitched magnificently yesterday afternoon at Landreth Ball Park as the Landreth nine turned in its tenth straight victory, defeating the strong Riverside club, 2 to 1. Black allowed but six hits, issued one pass and struck eight, striking out Nociti, the visitors' heavy hitting third baseman three straight times. The visitors escaped a shut-out in the ninth, when Daddino, first up, hit by Rockhill for a triple. Rossi made a good catch of Nociti's foul but Costello fumbled Nelson's grounder for the Farmers' only error and Daddino scored. Nelson was forced at second when Edge grounded to Liberator. Elvert batting for Bowers bounced to Black and the rally was over.

Black's best pitching feat came in the second inning when Riverside bunched three of their eight hits but

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

A two weeks period of vacation Bible school for girls and boys of Chalfont, is to get underway tomorrow, sponsored by the St. James Lutheran Church, that borough.

The ages of the students is three to 16 years, the sessions opening tomorrow morning at nine o'clock, in Chalfont school house.

The school will be in charge of the pastors and teachers from the local churches. They include Rev. and Mrs. Myron A. Eichner, Rev. and Mrs. Price M. Collins, Mrs. Asa F. Hockman, Ruth Fly, Sara F. Baum, Mrs. Lee K. Brown, Mrs. Raymond W. Fly and Mildred M. Bruner.

A resident of Argus, Earl Yost, 20, was exonerated of blame in a charge of involuntary manslaughter when an inquest was held in the office of justice of the peace Paul F. Yoder, Hilltown, Thursday evening.

Yost was freed in the death of Ralph Kenneth Rufe, 12, of Franconia, who met his death after being struck by Yost's car on June 7th.

Bucks County Coroner, Dr. H. Clayton Moyer, Blooming Glen, conducted the inquisition.

According to two witnesses, Stanley Souder, Souderton R. D., and Mrs. Paul Derstine, Franconia, the boy ran into the side of Yost's car and the accident was entirely unavoidable.

Private L. S. Vanore, of the Collegeville sub-station of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, served as a witness for the Commonwealth.

Members of the Coroner's jury included Justice of the Peace Paul F. Yoder, Gideon Gehman, a tipstaff in the Bucks County Courts; Paul Frankenhoff, Charles C. Carpenter and Ralph Drace, all of Blooming Glen, and John Gulick, Blooming Glen.

A 22-year-old resident of Lahaska, Robert Atkinson, has returned home after a 14 months' sojourn in Western states and the Panama Canal Zone.

The young man, who left for California with two friends more than a year ago, made the return trip East with a movie director, Russell Morrison. Both trips were made by automobile, the westward trek taking six days. The three young men slept in tourists' camps and quite often out-of-doors while touring the continent in a car which Atkinson disposed of on the coast.

The trio of Bucks county boys, two of them coming back long before Atkinson did, took the southern route across the United States. They stopped at an Indian reservation in New Mexico.

While staying in San Francisco, Robert served as a guide at the Golden Gate International Exposition.

Robert, who several years ago visited Mexico, where he spent several months, took a cruise on a fruit boat to the Panama Canal Zone. Adventurous of spirit, he visited a jungle and rode on a freight train into the heart of a banana plantation.

Coming East with his movie director friend, they stopped at Salt Lake City and came through the salt flats of Utah. At Bonneville, Utah, they saw where Sir Malcolm Campbell, English speed ace, and G. E. T. Eyston, who drove the "Thunderbolt," raced in their speed cars.

Included in his transcontinental trek was a stop at Reno, Nevada.

Three Langhorne Boys are Spending 10 Days, from July 16 to 26, at the American Legion Boys' Camp at Indiantown Gap, Pa.

They are Dale Miller, of Langhorne, and Donald Craven, of Parkland, whose trips are sponsored by Jesse W. Soby Post and the Post Auxiliary, and Robert Oakley, of Oaklithurst, who is being sent by the Langhorne Lions Club.

VOTERS' REGISTRATION DATE IS AUGUST 1ST

Two Local Registrars Will Sit in Each District at That Time

DEADLINE, AUGUST 12TH

DOYLESTOWN, July 17—County-wide registration of voters is set for Tuesday, the first of August, according to an announcement by clerk of registration, Robert F. Detweiler, located in the administration building, here.

Two local registrars will sit in each election district between the hours of nine a. m. and two p. m., and between six and nine p. m., standard time, on that date.

Voters, it has been explained, must appear in person to register and the registrars will be sitting for the purpose of receiving personal applications for registrations, applications for change of party enrollment, and removal notices from electors.

Mr. Detweiler explained that citizens, who are naturalized should bring their naturalization papers.

Any voter who is not registered by August 12, the deadline, will not be able to vote at the primary election which will be held September 12.

It was pointed out that non-residents in Commonwealth must have resided in the State one year before they can vote, and if they lived in the State at one time and have returned to the State, they must be residents here six months before they can vote.

A voter must reside in any district two months before he can vote, that is if he moved from one district to another.

"Two months means two months and not 60 days," said Mr. Detweiler, who pointed out that Clerk to the County Commissioners Ernest H. Harvey emphasized specifically that the law says two months and not 60 days because in some cases it would be more than 60 days.

Announcement was also made that candidates who wish their names placed on the primary ballot must have their petitions filed in the office of the County Commissioners not later than closing time on July 24.

Await Strike Outcome

Harrisburg, July 17—Pennsylvania awaited today the outcome of the strike of WPA projects, called by the A. F. of L. Building Trades Council, to protest the wage provision of the 1939-40 relief bill.

Whether the strike—termed a "lock-out" by Philadelphia Building Trades leaders—will be successful or is doomed to failure, remained problematical after A. F. of L. President William Green voiced disapproval because of unfavorable public reaction and President Roosevelt's statement that WPA workmen cannot strike against the government.

James L. McDevitt, president of both the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor and the Philadelphia Building Trades Council, ordered the Council's Pennsylvania members to remain away from work on 41 WPA projects. The members all were warned that union rules required the expulsion of all who reported for work.

Another factor which may adversely affect the strike was the announcement by WPA authorities that 38% of those now on State WPA rolls will be dismissed in accordance with the 18 months ruling to make way for new eligibles. Observers believe this action would make many would-be strikers loathe to leave their jobs.

Strikers still faced automatic loss of their jobs if they stayed away from their work longer than five days.

It was pointed out, however, that WPA authorities will be unable to ascertain the number of men on strike or the number of projects affected until reports from the 16 regional supervisors are filed with the headquarters in Harrisburg, inasmuch as the strike was called on Friday and work was suspended for Saturday and Sunday.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Neutrality and 1940

Washington, July 15.

THE sound and unexpectedly mild nature of the President's and Secretary Hull's latest appeal for action on their neutrality proposal makes worth while an analysis of the motives of those Senators who are opposing them on this issue and who are responsible for the present unpleasant situation.

—o—

THE vote in Congress showed 12 against and 11 for the action demanded, which probably means that in the Senate as a whole there is not far from a majority, as things stand now, who will not take the Administration view. At least thirty-four Senators have agreed among themselves to oppose to the limit the restoration of those features of the Bloom bill eliminated by the House, chief of which is the provision permitting the sale of arms and munitions to belligerent nations.

—o—

SO far as motives are concerned, these Senators may be divided into three groups. First, there are the conscientious men, like Borah and Johnson, Nye and La Follette, who are convinced isolationists, opposed to any form of international co-operation. Second, there are the Senators, mostly from Middle Western States, who reflect—or, at least, think they do—the feeling of their people. Third, there are the Senators who dislike and distrust Mr. Roosevelt, who feel that with such a law as he wants he could—and would—promptly put us into war; that this would fit into his political strategy and might make him the first third-term President.

—o—

AS to the first group—the convinced isolationists—nothing can be

A New Gymnastic Feat

(By "The Stroller")

The young lads have a certain gymnastic feat which they perform in various parts of the borough—wherever they can find a bill-board built to their specifications.

We have observed them from time to time climb a few feet from the ground to the lower edge of the large signs; then get in position with their heels on the narrow ledge, sometimes only three inches wide, which forms the "frame" of the sign. Then, with their backs to the advertisement, they endeavor to keep balance as they slowly make their way from the one side of the sign to the other, while companions grouped on the ground cheer them on.

MYSTERY BLAST

Accustomed as Americans are to an immediate scientific explanation of such phenomena of nature as earthquakes, hurricanes, and so forth, the mystery which surrounds the explosion that rocked Portland, Oregon, and neighboring territory is puzzling. There are a number of theories, but so far no one with authority has ventured to give an unreserved opinion.

The blast shook buildings, cracked walls, rattled dishes and window panes, and woke up most of the inhabitants; and yet the seismograph at the University of Washington, Seattle, showed no signs of a tremor. There are, however, a number of eye-witnesses who swear they saw a huge meteor sweep across the sky. If that is what it was, it seems to have detonated close to Portland itself.

No meteorite fragments have been found to support this theory, and Astronomer Pruett of the University of Oregon predicts that it will take two weeks to identify the strange visitor. Who knows, it might be a visitation from Mars, which close approach is being made the subject of study by astronomers all over the world.

Anyway, no one has yet come forward with the hypothesis that the detonating meteor was a trick of Japanese spies.

LIKE NOTHING ELSE

The torrential proportions of the midday avalanche of popular clamor that Franklin D. Roosevelt consent to serve as President for at least one more term resembles nothing that has never before been seen in this country. What a pity that the Nation cannot be spared the cost of a needless and futile, from the opposition's standpoint, election by having Congress pass a resolution asking the President to continue in office.

This would be the modern, streamlined, machine-age way. See Germany, Italy, Russia, etc.

What proof is there of this devastating popular demand that Roosevelt not leave the country in the lurch, you ask? Double proof. Harold Ickes for one, and Senator Joe Guffey, of Pennsylvania, for another.

Only low hands and vile intellects would suggest that Harold Ickes, like where he is, and Coattail Joe whose term expires next year, would like to have the full force and effect of WPA, etc., etc., expend in his behalf when he runs for re-election. These men are patriots and when they speak their voices are as the combined voice of the common people.

Professor Moley, the original head of the Brain Trust, Assistant President, etc., now is writing magazine articles telling how he helped to start the mess in Washington. What the country wants to know, Professor, is how to end it and quickly.

A duPont scientist has found a means of inhibiting mold in bread. Certain parties contend, however, that we should return to laissez faire capitalism and let the moldy bread problem automatically cure itself.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

By Courier Staff Member

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Dec. 29, 1877. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

The following items were culled from the issue of Bucks County Gazette of December 29, 1877:

At the annual election held in Bristol Lodge, No. 25, A. V. M., on last Saturday for officers to serve the lodge for the ensuing Masonic year, commencing on St. John's Day, next, the following brethren were chosen: George W. Kirk, M. D., master; James B. Candy, M. D., senior warden; Benjamin W. Boncher, junior warden; William Kinsey, treasurer; Charles E. Scott, secretary.

Captain W. Nelson Jarvis, of the schooner "Edwood Doron," last Friday, when about 200 miles at sea bound for Cuba, lost the mate of his vessel, who was washed overboard by a heavy sea and could not be recovered. The vessel had to return to New London, Conn., to procure another mate.

E. Oscar Thomas, now bookkeeper for D. Focht & Co., Philadelphia, has been selected as the new clerk at the Farmers National Bank.

Jonathan Day, near Honesdale, killed on Saturday night last, a 16-month-old pig, cross of the Berkshire and Chester White, which weighed 514 pounds.

A fair for the benefit of the poor was opened yesterday at the Temperance Reading Room on Cedar street, and continues this afternoon and evening.

A change takes place today in the mail arrangements for Newtown, Langhorne and Hulmeville. They will receive their Philadelphia mail via the Bound Brook railroad. Edgewood 37 and Oxford Valley will be supplied in the same manner after today.

Miss Patridge, of Philadelphia, one of the prominent leaders of the Women's Rights Movement, will on certain the residents of Langhorne with a lecture this Winter. Col. Davis, of Doylestown, is also engaged to deliver his lecture by the "Emerson."

George Helling's large hog, weighing 565 pounds, was killed at the Railroad House last Saturday, also one belonging to William Tyrrell, which weighed 445 pounds. George Silbert has two gigantic "specimens of the hog kingdom which will be sacrificed after a while.

The funeral of the late Dr. Elias Wildman, who died on the 15th instant, at his residence at Fallsington, was largely attended. Joseph Made, of Philadelphia, Henry Wood, of Trenton, and Lucy Cadwallader, of Fallsington, made addresses.

A fire occurred at the house occupied by Anthony Bell, on Pine street, on Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock. The fire department was promptly on hand, but as has often been the case before, the fire was extinguished before they reached it, so that the boys had the pleasure of dragging the steamer back again. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the rafters and plaster between the roof and the house, igniting from the stove-pipe which projected into the shed and thence to the roof. No very great damage was done, owing only however, to the prompt action of the people in getting water upon it.

The farm of the late John B. Wright, near Fallsington, containing 87 acres, was purchased by the widow on Tuesday, at public sale, for $1166 per acre.

A valuable horse belonging to Joseph DuBois, of Pineville, died recently of putrid fever. It was valued at $175.

ANDALUSIA — Our boarding schools, Andalusia Hall and Potter Hall, are having about their usual attendance. The boys are happy in the prospect of the Christmas holidays.

Tramps! tramps! tramps! The street is full of them, wending their way, it is supposed, to their comfortable quarters at the Hotel Pennypack. The "Correction" as the inmates call the establishment, is at present a very popular resort, having about 2,000 boarders. The city fathers have decided to utilize the muscles of these unfortunates in repairing and improving the public roads in this portion of the city limits. Whether it is right to deprive the honest laboring man of his means of supporting himself and family, is a question.

HOLLYWOOD—Love scenes in "The Rains Came" finally cracked the serenity of Brenda Joyce, whom Clarence Brown says is the calmest new-comer he has ever broken in to acting. What with 75 people looking on, the former U. C. L. A. co-ed began to chill. They had to send out for an electric heater so she could warm herself before each take. With its aid, she managed to kiss George Brent 19 times. . . . Probably the first time a leading woman had to be artificially warmed for a love scene with George.

Artist Dean Cornwall recently was engaged to do a series of posters on Gary Cooper in character for "The Real Glory". The Samuel Goldwyn publicity department almost fainted en masse when the first sketches arrived.

Cornwall had done them all in the nude. Nobody had told the boys that this is his usual method and that he adds the costumes afterwards.

At this writing, Tyrone Power and Annabella plan to sail on the S. S. Rex (of the Italian line, not the local gambling boat) for a week in the land of Mussolini, after which they go on to Paris to visit Annabella's relatives.

The film pair had made an application to fly on the Atlantic Clipper. They received a note thanking them for their interest but explaining that there were 2,800 reservations ahead of them. Applications have been coming in for several years. To show how long, there was one on file from the late Will Rogers.

What's this about Gene Raymond replacing Robert Taylor in "Northwest Passage"? He was at M-G-M the other day making a test.

One of those stop-without-warning moguls very nearly spoiled Director Greg La Cava's record of being 13 days ahead of schedule on "My Fifth Avenue Christmas." The really...

He bowed. "I deserve the rebuke. I was unwarrantably impertinent. But the fact remains that you interest me enormously."

"To what end?"
The moment she had said that, she regretted the words. Might he not take a variety of meaning from them? The most obvious, that she would like to know his intentions toward her?

As if to counteract this impression, she gave a nonchalant shrug. Had she been able to read his mind at this moment, she would have been considerably surprised. Astounded in fact.

ture, had to slam on his brakes to avoid a collision in Wilshire boulevard. His nose banged into the windshield and Mrs. Ellison (Gertrude Durkin) got a twisted ankle. Jimmy is now back on the set—his injuries covered with makeup putty.

Incidentally, you want to get a load of Ginger Rogers' new cologne in this film. It's like the old Page Boy bob, only several inches shorter.

Nat Pendleton's 98-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Frances Johnson, is critically ill in a local hospital after a fall in which she broke her hip. A blood transfusion may be needed and, if it is, Nat will rush from the set ("A Day at the Circus") to give his own blood, which has been found to be the proper type.

The Errol Flynn-Lili Damita "automobile accident" certainly left two ribbers holding the sack. The very next night, Allan Hale and Donald Crisp had planned to deposit a broken down horse on Flynn's door-step. They had bought the horse and now they are too kind-hearted to send it to a glue factory. . . . so they are stuck with it.

Maybe some of the youngsters will not be so eager to trade places with Shirley Temple when they hear this. . . . Due to her recent Honolulu trip, she has to go to school for four more weeks before she can graduate from the low to the high sixth grade.

If you don't think "Ninotchka" will show a New Garbo, she even does a comedy drunk scene in the film. . . . Is it Madeleine Carroll or Director E. H. Griffith who is keeping the "Are Husbands Necessary?" set closed so tightly? Too bad! These days, a picture needs all the breaks it can get. . . . Nan Grey and Jockey Westoppe say they are sorry but the baby rumors aren't true. . . . Here's one for the book. Eddie Lewis, genial host of Ruby Foo's, has a nine months old great dane that steals milk bottles and rugs from all up and down the street and deposits them on the Lewis front porch. They are so embarrassed. . . . Paramount probably will order Allan Jones to grow a mustache.

Sights to see: Skeets Gallagher, the Buster Colliers, Heler Woods and Bill Haines up on the dance floor at Marcel's doing an exhibition with the jitterbug. . . . The really... done with them. They are not susceptible to reason on this subject, and it is a waste of time to try. As to the second class, there is a chance that something could be done to make them realize their mistake. It is true the sentiment of their constituents is overwhelmingly pacifist, but it is also true that if the embargo, which they insist upon continuing, is not raised before war comes, public sentiment would properly compel its lifting once war came, and that would involve us in the conflict far more certainly than if the change were made during a period of peace.

—O—

THE support given this view and given the President and Mr. Hull on the embargo issue by some of the most important Republicans in the country ought to convince some of these Western Senators that the course they favor is not in the interests of peace but rather the reverse. The latest of these Republicans to take a position on this point is Mr. William R. Castle, former Ambassador to Japan, Under Secretary of State in the Hoover Administration and a very strong anti-New Dealer, indeed. Yet, in a recent speech at the University of Virginia, while strongly opposing giving the President power to define combat areas, Mr. Castle unreservedly ranged himself behind the President and Mr. Hull on the main issue—to wit, raising the embargo against shipments to belligerents. He urged that this was sure to be forced by public sentiment once war came and that it would vastly enhance our chance of staying out if it were done before.

Garden Guessing Game

Here's a guessing game for gardeners that carries with it a good lesson in fertilizer application.

Systematic addition of plant food (complete commercial fertilizers are now most widely used) is essential for real success in almost any garden. Proper use, however, as directed by the fertilizer manufacturers, is vital. The pitfalls of careless application of fertilizer are shown by the picture above.

Now—which of the three lettuce plants pictured received the heaviest application of fertilizer? Each was planted in the same moderately rich soil and grown under the same conditions in a test of fertilizer reactions at a Ferry-Morse Seed Breeding Station.

Here's the answer. The plant at the right received the heaviest application—in fact several times more than recommended. The one in the center received a moderate overdose, while the flourishing plant at the left was treated as recommended by the fertilizer maker.

So, in applying fertilizer to your garden, be cautious; and follow directions carefully. You will not get ten times as good results as your neighbor simply by applying ten times as much fertilizer as he does. In fact, over-heavy applications can retard plant growth, as is evidenced by our contest picture above.

Senatorial opponents—those who suspect that Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy is linked with his domestic political purposes and believe him capable of using the one to promote the other—something can be done to modify their opposition, but it can be done only by Mr. Roosevelt himself—and it is at least doubtful that he will try. This writer believes it shockingly unjust to infer that Mr. Roosevelt is capable of plunging this country into war in order to promote his political ambitions, whatever they may be. That would imply an unthinkable degree of viciousness. No one not wholly blinded by prejudice will believe that the President would calculatingly do such a thing.

NEVERTHELESS, the fact that the 1940 Presidential campaign is close at hand; that with his acquiescence and approval Mr. Roosevelt's intimate friends are feverishly promoting a third-term movement; that the recent appointment to the important post of Federal Security Administrator of Mr. Paul McNutt, the Indiana politician who is running for President, but promises to support Mr. Roosevelt if he runs, shows that Mr. Roosevelt is playing 1940 politics as hard as he knows how—these and other things tend to weaken his position on a question which should be wholly free from politics.

AS Mr. Mark Sullivan points out, Mr. Roosevelt has the gift of this condition in his own hand. He could cure it in five minutes if he really wants and, by leaving no room for suspicion in the mind of any Senator, in all probability he could insure success in his neutrality fight. He could do this by a simple, clear, unequivocal declaration that he will not be a candidate and will not, under any circumstances, accept a renomination.

tion. Mr. Roosevelt is notoriously reluctant to accept any suggestion that does not come from one of his own circle of intimate adherents. However, it is so clear that he could win this particular fight this way that it seems impossible he should not see it. Failure to make such a statement makes the inference reasonable that he would rather lose his neutrality bill than completely close the third-term door.

The most famous broadcast scare of the century—the Orson Welles Martian invasion—serves as the basis for the climax of "SOS—Tidal Wave," which comes today to the Bristol Theatre.

The dramatic story of seven lives changed by a blackmailer's threat is Monogram's "Should a Girl Marry?" which is now showing at the Bristol Theatre.

Although Margaret Wilson was born in prison, her foster parents never tell her this fact, and it is not until the eve of her marriage to Dr. Robert Benson that the girl learns the truth.

GRAND THEATRE

"Juarez," Warner Bros. brilliant new production starring Paul Muni and Bette Davis, will have its local premiere today at the Grand Theatre.

From an historical standpoint, "Juarez" is extremely important, for it depicts the only widespread efforts on the part of a European government to infringe upon the Monroe Doctrine. Napoleon III, of France, sets up a puppet empire in Mexico with Maximilian and Carlotta as innocent and hapless pawns, in order to collect the debts owed to France.

DONOFRIO IS CONFIDENT AS HE PREPARES TO BATTLE FINN

CLAIMS HE WILL KNOCK MICKEY OUT IN FIFTH ROUND

Finn Also Confidently Expects To Knock Out His Opponent

SOME FINE BOUTS

Fans Are Promised A Well-Rounded Fist Fest Here Tonight

Frank Donofrio, the hard-punching light heavy from Philadelphia and his manager, Pete Moran, are in town for the punchfest with Mickey Finn at St. Ann's open air Arena in Bristol tonight. Donofrio, in great shape, said: "Tonight we will find out what makes Mickey Finn tick. They tell me he shellacked John Henry Johnson his last time out; well, after I hit him one or two belts tonight, he will know that it is not Johnson who is hitting him, but Frank Donofrio. I think I'll knock him out before the fifth round." Donofrio will weigh around 170 pounds.

With Finn of the belief that he is going to knock-out Donofrio, the match should please the fans of this section if both battlers go in there and fight their usual fight. It is promoter Joe Gruel's intention to bring in the best opponent obtainable to meet the winner of tonight's contest two weeks hence. The contest is scheduled for eight rounds.

The first eight-rounder of the double windup will show Tony Sarullo, of Philadelphia, meeting the aggressive Ricari Toma of New York. The boxing fraternity is of the opinion that Sarullo has his work cut out for him in this contest and must win early, rather than box and try to capture the decision.

The main preliminary will show Lenny Dever of Bristol against that former amateur champion Joe Amico in a six-round contest. Three four-rounders make up the balance of the card, the first being Johnny Morello of Philadelphia against the surprising Benny "Killer" O'Neill of Trenton; the second bout will bring on Willie Lucas of Philadelphia and his opponent will be Freddy Budassi of Trenton, while the third will show two promising heavyweights in the persons of Lou Angelo, Trenton's white hope and Bill Wright of Philadelphia.

The first bout will enter the ring at 8:45 and the doors will be opened at seven.

Last week proved to be a successful one for the Diamond team in the Bristol Twilight League. By winning the three games it played, the boys of Joe Diamanti increased their lead in the loop to two and one-half games over the second place Rohm & Haas club.

The Hall Aluminum team continued its climb out of the cellar by winning two games to run its streak to five straight. The Hall team is just a few points away from fourth place, one game from third, and two tilts from second place.

Two games will be played tonight. The Rohm and Haas nine has a chance to gain on Diamond if it captures its scheduled fray on the Cornwallis field. The Oddies and Grundy's teams continued their feud for third place on Landreth's diamond. A win for Grundy's will place them in a deadlock for third while a defeat shoves them into the last position. Eddie Sullivan will twirl for the Rohm and Haas nine against Charlie Wilhoy for Diamond. The receivers will be Johnny Dougherty and Tony Angelo, respectively. Mel Wright will pitch for Grundy's against Milt Jones of the Odd Fellows.

Games will begin at 6:30 o'clock sharp.

MOFFO NAMED REFEREE BY BOXING COMMISSION

Sammy Moffo, a former fighter from this borough, has been named a referee by the Pennsylvania State Boxing Commission. Moffo's appointment was received last week and he will officiate in tonight's bouts in the St. Ann's A. A. Arena.

Also approved by the commission are the following Bristolians: Charles Liebra and Charles Alta, judges; and John J. Rich, timekeeper. Pat Fields was accepted as an announcer since the opening show.

PRESENTING

the girl behind your telephone bill

Every month this company prepares nearly 750,000 telephone bills. This gigantic task requires the services of more than 1,000 people—mostly women.

There are literally millions of operations and hundreds of millions of figures involved in the preparation of these bills. Yet careful checks show that, so far as the accounting work is concerned, better than 999 out of every thousand bills are absolutely accurate.

In tribute to those who have achieved this remarkable record, we present the typical Accounting girl!*

HER FIRST JOB...

She's 24 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighs 123 pounds, has brown hair, blue eyes. With little experience, but eager to learn, she started her telephone career at the age of 18—soon after leaving high school or business school. Her first task was to help sort the millions of toll charge tickets on which operators record out-of-town calls.

SHE IS PROMOTED...

Moving up through various jobs, she learns to operate calculators and other complex billing machines. She runs them with a speed that would amaze you, but above speed—above everything—comes ACCURACY. Every billing operation is checked, double-checked—even triple-checked—to make your bills correct.

A SOCIABLE GROUP...

She works hard and enjoys her job; finds many congenial companions at the office. Together, they go swimming, go bowling in the company league, play tennis, hike, give showers for the girls who leave to be married. On their own initiative, some of our Accounting girls have organized classes and lecture courses for social and cultural education. Most of them take the health courses, promoted by our Medical Department.

FUN-LOVING, GENEROUS...

For entertainment, she likes best Spencer Tracy and Norma Shearer, Kathleen Norris, and on the air, dramatic presentations. Few weeks go by without at least one party for Accounting girls to attend. With all her love of fun, however, the girl who makes out your bill is generous and thoughtful of others. She contributes $8.00 a week to the support of her home; gives $3.00 a month to church and charities. She sets aside $3.25 a week for savings and insurance.

SHE COMES IN SMILING...

She works 7½ hours a day, 5 days a week, but still finds time to help her mother with the housework and spend a few evenings with the boy-friend, in addition to all the activities already mentioned. Sometimes we wonder how she does so much, but being a healthy, average American girl, she can dance 'til midnight and come in next morning with a spring in her step, a smile on her face and a sparkle in her eye.

AND THAT IS THE GIRL behind your telephone bill. Day after day, she plays her part to keep the wheels of telephone service moving swiftly and smoothly. Like all telephone men and women, she is trying to give you the kind of service that makes you glad you have a telephone.
